1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment

1.3.1 - Curriculum of the institutions provides opportunities for the students to acquire and demonstrate knowledge, skills, values and attitudes related to various learning areas Describe the curricular thrusts to achieve the following in not more than 100 - 200 words each A fundamental or coherent understanding of the field of teacher education Procedural knowledge that creates teachers for different levels of school education skills that are specific to one's chosen specialization Capability to extrapolate from what one has learnt and apply acquired competencies Skills/Competencies such as: Emotional Intelligence, Critical Thinking, Negotiation and Communication Skills, Collaboration with others, etc.

An Educational Institution performs significant functions of providing learning experiences to lead its students from ignorance to knowledge. As far as the teacher education is concerned, NCTE has clearly defined it as, "A programme of Education, research & training of persons to teach from pre-primary to higher secondary level". Teacher Education Programme encompasses teaching skills, sound pedagogical theory & professional skills. The institution laid emphasis on equipping prospective teachers with the knowledge, attitude, behavior & skills they acquire to perform their task effectively in the school, classrooms & wider community. The organization organizes various programmes to provide first hand experience to the pupil - teachers by organizing their visit to different levels of schools and providing platform so that they may get exposure in different respective fields. For developing teaching skills among the prospective teachers GCOE organizes demonstration sessions and acquaint the students with different teaching skills. Pupil teacher practice those teaching skills in the form of Micro teaching. In Micro teaching, Micro lesson plans are planned on daily basis in which teaching strategy/technique is practiced by Pupil teacher for a specific subject. It incorporates a specific topic that needs to be taught for a particular period.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Multiple mode approach to teaching-learning is adopted by teachers which includes experiential learning, participative learning, problem solving methodologies, brain storming, focused group discussion, online mode, etc. for enhancing student learning Describe the varied modes of learning adopted and their basic rationale for adopting such learning mode/s for different courses of each programme in not more than 100-200 words.

The institution focuses on Experiential and participative learning. Ample training is provided to student's during the two year training course both in B.Ed. and M.Ed., so that they can learn through action, by doing teaching in actual classrooms, through simulated teaching, through experience, and through discovery and exploration. Group discussion, peer group feedback, active involvement of faculty, hands-on participation, applying information outside classrooms is also given preference. Problem solving and critical thinking is also promoted through academic and co-curricular activities. Through teaching practice, internship activities, co-curricular activities and field visits our students are given ample exposure to new ways of learning. Besides regular teaching-learning, sessions on brain-storming are also held. Experience, reflection and application of knowledge is promoted through theory and practicum. Students are motivated for participative learning through various programs like Each One Teach One and Each One Plant One. Hands -on learning is promoted through preparation of teaching aids. Students are motivated to organize events, take decisions and take various initiatives for the benefit of the society. The students under training are engaged intellectually, emotionally and socially to develop a sense of responsibility towards the community in which they live and the society at large.

The pandemic was a tough time for both the students and faculty members. But Government College of Education, Jammu was one of the first among all the colleges to start online classes and all the faculty members made themselves adept with Online teaching learning. The pandemic time was stressful and highly challenging for all. But the faculty members worked as a team to resolve all the issues and after mutual discussion many decisions were taken keeping in view the availability of students at a particular point of time like Internship activity, Micro-Teaching, Macro-Teaching, Dissertation work and Viva-voce etc. Since we all were going through a time of uncertainty and ambiguity, we tried to deliver the best in terms of Teaching, Learning and Evaluation. Besides curricular activities many co-curricular activities were also conducted. Students also acted as volunteers to help the health workers to conduct their duties for covid patients. Many programs on Mental health issues due to pandemic were also conducted. Group supervisors personally counselled many students who were going through any sort of problems or trauma during Online teaching.

For Macro-Teaching the students of the college are taken to Government Schools of J&K. The head of the institution writes a letter to Directorate of School Education, Jammu takes permission for conducting Teaching Practice sessions. A list of Government schools that are near the vicinity of the college is provided to the Directorate for conducting Teaching Practice of a group of 13-14 B.Ed. /M.Ed. students for each school. The Directorate office issues an order pertaining to the permission of visiting the schools for training purpose. The college issues the letter to each Group Supervisor accordingly and the schools are selected by respective Group Supervisors. The students are informed through WhatsApp groups and notices regarding the select Schools. Each group supervisor holds a meeting with the students and gives them proper instructions regarding the Teaching Practice to be held in schools. Next day all the groups visit their respective schools and hold meeting with the Principal and staff members for all the necessary arrangements like framing of new time-table, distribution of classes etc. Since our institution holds good reputation and the TP is taking place since decades, different Govt. Schools always cooperate with our teaching groups.

2.4.11 - Institution adopts effective monitoring mechanisms during internship programme. Describe in not more than 100-200 words, the monitoring mechanisms adopted to ensure optimal impact of internship in schools with specific reference to the role of teacher educators, school principal, school teachers and peers.

During the Teacher Training Period in schools, all the stakeholders ensure proper training of the Pupil Teachers.

Role of the Teacher Educators:

The assigned Group supervisors monitor all the teaching and other allied activities of the students during the training. The students take their classes as per the prepared Time-Table and the supervisor observes the delivery of Lessons by visiting each and every class. He/she also monitors whether the P.T. has prepared relevant Teaching Aids, the content is well prepared, class management is proper, Lesson Plan is prepared according to the selected Teaching Approaches etc. The supervisor gives her feedback daily.

The School Principal plays a pivotal role in managing the training period. He/she cooperates in making all the necessary arrangements/alterations for the execution of Teaching Practicum. After the completion he/she certifies that the training has been done by the Pupil Teacher properly. The certificate is attached in the Internship files and Teaching Practical files also. Likewise school teachers also monitor, supervise and give their suggestions during the training period. Staff meetings also help in developing good understanding of the functioning of the school.

Peer Group gives their feedback in the form of Observation Lessons.

3.3.4 - Outreach activities in the community in terms of influencing and sensitizing students to social issues and contribute to community development Describe the way in which outreach activities conducted sensitized students to social issues and community development in not more than 100-200 words.

Various outreach activities related to Covid-19 pandemic social awareness, gender sensitisation, environmental protection, skill development and the like were organised by various departments and units of the GCOE, Jammu, during the session 2020-21, both via the offline and online modes. The activities saw immense participation from enthusiastic students who not only participated actively, but also learnt about the many social issues of the present times and the core values required to act as a responsible citizen of the country. While some activities like mask making competition and painting competitions sought to raise awareness by involving students in competitions, others like the awareness campaigns required the students to think critically about the issues at hand and present their views to the community at large. Still, there were other batch of activities which were solely a learning experience like the skill development courses, digital awareness programmes and the course of communication skills. Activities like plantation drives, greening of vertical garden and plastic waste management taught the students about the imminent need to conserve the environment and the many small initiatives they can take to lead environmentally sustainable lives. On the whole, despite the pandemic, outreach activities involving different stakeholders of the society were conducted seamlessly throughout the year, whether it be online or offline, as required.

Describe the mechanism through which Alumni Association acts as an effective support system to the institution in motivating, nurturing special talent in not more than 100 - 200 words

Maintaining good relationships with Alumni is crucial to the success of any higher education institution as former students serve many valuable roles. Keeping this aspect in mind, college actively involved the Alumni in different activities. They were called on numerous occasions to build skills and knowledge sharing network and the experiences that were shared by the Alumni with the students whether in the time management, development of self-discipline and character or in career management inspired the students a lot. Further, the former students extended support to the present students by mentoring them on practical learning or work experience in the institutions where the Alumni are presently serving. Alumni, who are presently holding key positions in different departments, even helped the College in availing different services from the Government and conducting various activities by actively involving the students. Be it intellectual activity, academic activity and social service the former students are being involved and their valuable suggestions are also kept in the mind while planning different academic and extra co-curricular activities for the students of the college. The college is committed to be in regular touch with Alumni so that they can give back to the institution through their valuable ideas.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching-learning process periodically through IQAC or any other mechanism Describe the process adopted by the institution for reviewing Teaching-Learning Process periodically in not more than 100 - 200 words.

Covid pandemic was the most challenging times and the Education Sector was worst hit by its impact, globally. Being a unique challenging situation the Schools and Colleges could not do much on its own without the directions of the central government. Hence, as per directions of the Central Government the colleges were completely closed for all kinds of activities from March 2020. In the month of April the government directed the higher education authorities to conduct Online Classes. To a great extent, the decision brought the much needed paradigm shift in higher education. IQAC of GCOE, Jammu accepted this transformative change and motivated the teachers and students to adopt the latest technology for teaching and learning. However the change was not easy because being a training institute, the additional challenge was to conduct Micro-Teaching, Macro-teaching and Internship activities through online mode. IQAC suggested the faculty to adopt simulated conditions for Micro, Macro Teaching and Internship Training. After threadbare consultation with faculty, many mutual decisions were taken to ensure interactive, engaging and workable teaching-learning activities. IQAC conducted online meetings periodically and helped in updating the digital infrastructure of the college. It also ensured adoption of new evaluation pattern through GCR.
